

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Adam the clerk of Ellon, "Adam clericus de Helom (Helon)" appears as a witness to the charters of Matthew, Bishop of Aberdeen, between the years 1172 and 1199. (Illustr. Topog. and Antiq. of Aberd. and Banff, vol. ii., pp. 17, 20.) A charter by Alexander Cumyn, Earl of Buchan, of the year 1277, is witnessed by David of Aberdeen, vicar of Ellon. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, p. 455.)

The church of Ellon was given to the Cistercian abbey of Kynlos in Murray, by King Robert I., in the year 1310. (Robertson's Index to the Charters, p. 2; Ferrer's Historia Abbatum de Kynlos, p. 27.)

In the year 1328, an agreement was made between the Abbot and Henry, Bishop of Aberdeen, in terms of which the former became bound to pay, from the fruits of the benefice, twenty four merks yearly for the endowment of a prebend in the Cathedral of Saint Machar at Aberdeen; four merks yearly to a stallar, or vicar, being in deacon's orders, serving in the same cathedral; and a hundred shillings yearly, with a manse and garden, to a chaplain serving the cure of souls, and making his residence in the parish. The prebendary was to be collated by the Bishop, with consent of the abbot and convent: his stallar was to be admitted by the dean and chapter; and the right of presenting the chaplain or vicar serving the cure was vested in the abbot and convent. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 48-50, 380; vol. ii., pp. 150, 252) William of Calabre, prebendary of Ellon, in the year 1392 bequeathed to the stallar, stipulating that he should be a priest, a sum of six merks yearly, with a house and piece of land beside the cathedral. (Id., vol. i., pp. 178-182.) The stallar's pension, payable by the abbey, was increased before the year 1437 to five pounds yearly: in the years 1506 and 1519 it was eight pounds yearly. (Id., vol. ii., pp. 68, 95, 108.)

William of Lask, the elder, lord of that Ilk, in the year 1380 bequeathed a pound of wax yearly to the altar of the Holy Rood in the church of Saint Mary of Ellon, and a stone of wax, with twelve silver pennies yearly, from his land of Logy near Ellon, for lights to be burned at the tomb of himself and his wives, situated, as it would seem, in the same church. (Id., vol. i., p. 134.)

Pope Adrian IV., on the 10th of August, 1157, confirmed to the See of Aberdeen the land which Master Philip held in Ellon, "terram de Ellon quam magister Philippus tenuit." (Id., vol. i., pp. 6, 85.) This land was at a later period known by the name of Bishop's Brynnes or Byrnes. (Id., vol. ii., p. 126.) It was held of the Bishop in the year 1349 by William of Saint Michael. (Id., vol. i., pp. 79-81) John of Saint Michael resigned the land in the year 1392, when it was granted, along with the serfs, by the Bishop to William Lang, one of the canons of the cathedral, in liferent. for payment of eight merks yearly, with the military service due to the King, and suit and presence thrice a year at the chief court of the bishopric, held at Rayne in the Garioch. (Id., vol. i., pp. 185, 186.) The land of Byrnes, with the mill, was feued by the bishop, in the year 1543, to Elizabeth Hay in liferent, and to William Abernethy, second son of the lord Salton, and his heirs, in fee. (Id., vol. i., pp. 419, 420) A description of "the meris of Bischop Brynnes," in the fifteenth century, was engrossed in the registers of the See. (Id., vol. i., pp. 247, 248.)

On the thirtieth of March, 1183, Pope Lucius III. confirmed to the Prior and canons of Saint Andrews the land of Helen which Slothagth held, "terram Helen quam Slothagth tenuit." (Id., p. 59.) Hugh, bishop of Saint Andrews, confirmed to the same Prior and canons, between the years 1178 and 1184, "Elin quam Sluthadi tenuit . in eschambio de Portmooch et Hernoch" (Id., p. 146.) The same land, "terra Elin quam Slodthah tenuit," was confirmed to the canons by his successor, Bishop Roger, who died in the year 1202. (Id., p. 152.) But it may be doubted, perhaps, if there be sufficient evidence of the identity of this Elin with Ellon in Buchan.

In the year 1265, Gameline, Bishop of Saint Andrews, gave his land of Ellon, "terram suam de Ellon in Buchan quam Scoloci de Ellon tenent," in liferent to Alexander Cumyn, Earl of Buchan, for the payment of two merks of silver yearly. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, pp. 311-312.)

By an inquest, held before Walter, Bishop of Saint Andrews, at the parish church of Ellon, in the year 1387, it was found that the church lands of Ellon, called the Scologlandis or Scolarlandis, were then of the yearly value of fifteen pounds thirteen shillings and fourpence, and were of old worth twenty pounds a year; that sixteen shillings yearly were due from them to the lord Bishop as superior; that he was in use to appoint a ballie, at whose courts all the inhabitants of the lands were bound to make suit and presence; that the heir of each Scolag was in use to receive entry to his land at the hands of the ballie, without any brieve of inquest from the lord Bishop; that from the said lands were found four clerks for the parish church of Ellon, filio Saulfi de Perth . Michaelae clerico . Rogero de Listona . Magistro Roberto Scoto . Stephano clerico . Alexandro et Willelmo capellanis episcopi . Gaufrido dapifero . Magistro Abraham . Odone senescaldo . Hugone pincerna . Guidone marescaldo . Gamel ostiario .

able to read and sing, together with their copes and surplices; that the fourth part of Easter Ellon was bound to find a house for the scholars at Ellon; that the fourth part of Candellan was bound to furnish, twice a year, four and twenty candles of wax, on the 'perfi' or 'perk' before the high altar; and that the lands of Ferley, held in time past by Megot, daughter of David of Ferley, were bound to the maintenance of a smithy at Ellon. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 177, 178; Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, pp. 310, 311.) See, on this tenure, Mr. Joseph Robertson's dissertation "On Scholastic Offices in the Scottish Church in the Twelfth and Thirteenth Centuries," in the Miscellany of the Spalding Club, vol. v., Appendix to Preface, pp. 56-77.

Ellon was, of old, the seat of justice for the earldom of Buchan. When John, the son of Uthred, between the years 1203 and 1214, received the lands of Fedrett and Ardindrach from Earl Fergus, he became bound to give suit and presence, thrice in every year, at the Earl's chief courts at Ellon. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, p. 408.) The mound or 'moot hill,' on which, according to ancient usage, the Earl, with 'the Dempster of Buchan,' (·) sat to dispense judgment among his vassals, was the place also where he received formal investiture of the earldom. On the twenty eighth of October, 1476, seisin or livery of the earldom of Buchan was given to Earl James Stewart, "super montem de Ellaue" (Lord Hailes's Additional Sutherland Case, chap. v., § 14, p. 61, citing attestation by the Sheriff of Aberdeen.) The eminence came afterwards to be known by the name of 'The Earl's Hill,' and its possession continued to be anxiously claimed by the lords of Buchan, when, of all that great inheritance, little or nothing remained with them but the name and dignity of earl. On the twenty-ninth day of August, 1519, Earl John Stewart was seised "in the earldom of Buchan and Earlishill thereof" (Id., citing instrument of seisin.) He resigned the earldom and "the Earlishill," in the year 1547, in favour of his son John Stewart, whose daughter, Christian, was seised in them accordingly in the year 1551. (Id.) The Countess Christian, having married Robert Douglas, a charter of the Earldom 'and the Earlishill' was granted to him and his wife in the year 1574. (Id., p. 63.) Their granddaughter, lady Mary Douglas, was, on the seventh of September, 1615, served heir to the Countess Christian in the Earldom of Buchan, and "monticulo nuncupato Erlishill." (Inquisitiones Speciales, vicecom. Aberd., no. 139.) Two years subsequently a charter of the earldom, "ac etiam monticulum vocatum Erlishill," was granted to her and her husband James Erskine, son of the Earl of Mar. (Registrum Magni Sigilli Regum Scotorum, lib. xlviii., no. 390, MS. in Her Majesty's General Register House at Edinburgh.) On the twenty-seventh of April, 1642, John, Earl of Rothes, was served heir to his father in the half of the lands and Earldom of Buchan, "cum monte vocato Erlishillock." (Inquisitiones Speciales, vicecom. Aberd., no. 261.) This moiety went afterwards to the Maules, and, on the * "Farhard judex de Buchan" appears as a witness to a charter by William Cumyn, Earl of Buchan, who died before the year 1233. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 14, 15.) An agreement, made at Ordebofyn in the year 1236, between the abbot and convent of St. Thomas of Arbroath, and Marjory, Countess of Buchan, is witnessed by "Kereld . Pherharchd . et Thoma judicibus." (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, p. 33*; Regist. Vet. de Aberbrothoc, p. 162. Edin., 1848.)

In the year 1358 the fee of the judex or Dempster of the sheriffdom of Aberdeen was forty shillings yearly, the fee of the sheriff being twenty pounds, and that of his clerk forty shillings. (The Chamberlain Rolls, vol. i., pp. 293, 300.)

twelfth of May, 1663, George, Earl of Panmure, was served heir to his father in the half of the lands which formerly belonged to the Earldom of Buchan, "et monte vocato Erlshillock." (Id., no. 367.) The other half was acquired by the house of Glamis. On the fifteenth of June, 1648, Patrick, Earl of Kinghorne, was served heir to his father in the half of the lands and Earldom of Buchan, "cum monte vocato Erlshillock" (Id., no. 293); and on the twenty-ninth of October, 1695, John, Earl of Strathmore and Kinghorn, was served heir to his father Patrick, in "reliquo comitatus et prædii de Buchan," comprehending the "Earleshillock," (Id., no. 497.)

This remarkable mound has now disappeared; "its site, which was on the left bank of the Ythan, about eighty or ninety yards below the bridge of Ellon, being occupied by the stables and farm yard of one of the inns of the village; but persons are still living who remember the time when the Earl's Hill retained both its place and name." (The New Statistical Account of Scotland, number xlii., p. 903. Edin., 1843.)

In the year 1365, Walter de Mentheth, lord of Petmacaldor, with consent of John his son and heir, gave to the vicar of the parish church of St. Deuenac of Methlic "quamdam peciam terre facientem immediate iuxta aquam de Ethoyn que vocatur le Haulch ex parte vna et descendendo a vado riulli de Melok ad vadum quod vocatur Clochy ex parte altera." (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., p. 112.)

In the year 1587, the church of Methlic, which had been resigned by Walter Stewart principal of King's College, was granted to the College by the King, under the reservation of the principal's liferent of the benefice and of the annate. The benefice so conferred was declared to be free from the payment of all thirds, but the masters of the College were taken bound to provide a suitable minister for the parish out of their own number. In 1617 an Act of Parliament was passed, which declared that a regent of the College, to be elected by the Bishop, should sit and vote in the chapter of Aberdeen, and that the College should furnish a sufficient stipend to the minister serving the cure of the church. (Fasti Aberdonenses, pp. 133, 142.) The patronage of the church was sold by the college to the Earl of Aberdeen in 1764. (Evidence taken by the Commissioners on the Universities of Scotland, vol. iv., p. 201.)]

In the year 1496, Mr. Edward Cwynkham, priest, rector of Cusny, was presented to the church of Tarves, vacant by the death of Sir Alexander Abircrummy, or of Sir Thomas Myrtone. (Id., p. 298.) In the year 1501, Sir Archibald Balcolmy was presented to the church of Tarves. (Id., p. 334.) Mr. Alexander Dunbar, in January, 1525, received a presentation to the church of Tarves, when it should be resigned by Sir Thomas Myrtone, for the purpose of exchanging it with the provostship or vicarage of the collegiate church of Craylle. (Id., p. 442.) In the following month, Mr. John Reid, vicar of Mernys, in the diocese of Glasgow, was nominated successor to Mr. Alexander Dunbar. (Id., p. 444.) In 1534, Sir William Sympill, chaplain of the diocese of Glasgow, was nominated successor to John Reid in the church of Tarves, when it should be resigned by him either simply or for the sake of exchange with the chancellorship of the cathedral of Aberdeen. (Id., p. 517.) In the same year, and six months afterwards, Mr. Henry Lumsden was nominated successor to Sir William Sympill. (Id., p. 519.)]

On the eleventh of November, 1406, Ranald of Uideny lord of that ilk granted to a chaplain serving in the chapel of the Holy Trinity of Uldeney, for the soul of Patrick of Uideny his father, the land on which the old chapel of Uldeney stood; his lands between the burns of Brony and Couly; the land which the hermit possessed by leave of his father; the brewhouse of Uldeney, with pasture on the common of Uldeney, for a mare, a pig, twelve cattle and forty sheep; and an annual rent of thirty-three shillings and four pence from his lands of Achynlown. In the year 1456, Sir John Jeffrason was collated by Ingeram, bishop of Aberdeen, to this chaplainry, which was in the presentation of William Uldeney of that ilk, and was vacant by the death of Sir Thomas Broustare.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. I., pp. 209, 282.) A charter, which appears to be spurious, bears that in the year 1163, Malcolm IV. confirmed the lands of Tulligirg in this parish to the See of Aberdeen.—(Ibid., vol. I., p. 7.)]

In the year 1362, Alexander, bishop of Aberdeen, following up the grant of the patronage of this church by King David II. to the chapter of the cathedral church of St. Machar, conveyed to that body the church itself, with all its revenues and teinds. Out of the revenues five pounds sterling were assigned to a chaplain in the cathedral, who was to perform the usual religious services for the souls of the King and the Bishop, and their predecessors and successors: and ten merks were set apart for the vicar serving the cure. In the year 1520, Logybuchan and Rathyne were set for £212.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 284.)

On the thirteenth day of May, 1589, Patrick Cheyne of Essilmonth granted the sunny plough of the shady half of the lands of Taaertie in this parish, and in warrandice the sunny plough of the shady half of Bourishill in the parish of Ellon, to William Mar, burgess of Aberdeen. On the thirtieth day of May, 1599, the same Patrick Cheyne granted to Alexander Tulideff the shady half of the lands of Taaertie. On the eighteenth day of July, 1605, William Mar sold his right to John Urquhart of Craigfintray. He, in the year 1609, conveyed his right to John Forbes of Pitsligo, who, in the same year, succeeded by purchase to the right of Tullideff.—(Originals in the Pitsligo charter chest.)]

The church of Inuercroutan or Crudan, with its pertinents, was confirmed to the Sec of Aberdeen by Pope Adrian IV. in the year 1157. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 6, 85.) It appears as one of the prebends of the cathedral of Saint Machar at Aberdeen in the year 1256: "decima prebenda canonie assignatur totalis ecclesia de Inuercrwdane cum omnibus fructibus obuentionibus et ceteris pertinencijs ad eandem spectantibus." (Id., vol. ii., pp. 40, 252.) By the constitutions of Bishop Peter of Ramsay, of the eighteenth of April, 1256, the prebendary of Crwdan was required to find a deacon to serve as his vicar in the cathedral. (Id., vol. ii., pp. 47, 65.)

The church was dedicated to Saint Olave, king and martyr, whose festival was kept, in the Scottish church, on the thirty-first of March. The Aberdeen Almanac for the year 1703 records "St. Oles' fair at Cruden on the first Tuesday of April."

John the son of Uthred gave his lands of Slanys and Cruden to Fergus earl of Buchan, before the year 1214, in exchange for the lands of Fedreth and Ardindrach. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, pp. 407, 409.) ]

A charter of the lands of Ury in the Mearns, granted to William of Hay by his father Sir William of Hay, knight, Constable of Scotland, and lord of Eroll, on the twentieth of July, 1480, is witnessed by Sir Gilbert of Hay of Dronlaw, the granter's brother: "domino Gilberto de Hala de Dronlaw fratre nostro." (The Miscellany of the Spalding Club, vol. ii., p. 322.)

The first grant of Dronlaw made to the Hays appears to have been by William earl of Mar, before the year 1251. (Id., pp. 307, 308.) They obtained a second grant from his son Donald, earl of Mar, between the years 1272 and 1294 (Id., pp. 312, 313); and a third from the Knights Hospitalers, about the same period: "Frater Hubertus de Chellecham magister domus Hospitalis Jerusalemiani de Torpchechan et ejusdem loci fratres dederunt Domino Nicholao de Haya militi et heredibus suis illud totum et illas quatuor acras terre et totam illam pasturam quod et quas Douenaldus filius Duncani nobis dedit in villa de West Dorlaw . pro escambio quod dictus Dominus Nicholaus nobis fecit de quatuor acris terre et dimidio acre in Est Dorlaw cum pastura . Robert de Leylie, rector of the church of Slanis, is a witness to the charter of foundation of Saint Congan's Hospital at Turreff, dated at Kelly, on the first Sunday after the Feast of Candlemas in the year 1273. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, p. 470.) In the year 1325, Master Andrew Gallsych, rector of the church of Slanys, is present at a perambulation of marches between the King's park of Fyvie and the land of Ardlogy, belonging

Sanctus Adamnanus preclaris ortus parentibus de nobilissima Conaldi Regis progenie carnis duxit originem de cuius ortu moribus et vita Sanctus Columba longo tempore antequam nasceretur diuinitus proto the abbot and convent of Saint Thomas of Canterbury at Arbroath. (Registrum Vetus de Aberbrothoc, p. 311.)

On the seventeenth of September, 1505, Bishop Elphinstone, with consent of the lay patrons of the benefice, renewed the grant which he had previously made of the parish church of Slanis to the University and College which he had founded at Aberdeen: "Nos vero cupientes numerum doctorum magistrorum legentium et scolarium in predicta Uniuersitate augeri et ampliari . ecclesiam parochialem de Slanis Aberdonensis diocesis . cum consensu et assensu patronorum laicallium ejusdem . que de jure patronatus laicalis existebat . nostra autoritate ordinaria eidem Universitati doctoribus magistris legentibus et studentibus in eadem commorantibus . univim annexuimus et incorporavimus prout de presenti unimus annectimus et presentium tenore incorporamus." (Fasti Aberdonenses, pp. 26, 27, 28, 53.) The grant was confirmed in the following year by Pope Julius II. (Id., p. 64.) A salary was reserved from the fruits of the benefice to the vicar pensioner serving the cure of souls in the parish; and the right of presentation to that office was vested in the principal, subprincipal, and other doctors of the College, the admission or collation being with the Chancellor, who was also the ordinary of the diocese. (Id., pp. 86, 96.)

Between the years 1203 and 1214, Fergus, earl of Buchan, gave the lands of Fedreth and Ardendrach to John, the son of Uthred, in exchange for the lands of Slanys and Cruden. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, pp. 497-499.)

William of Slanys is a witness to the grant. The same person appears under the designation of 'miles,' along with Earl Fergus, among the witnesses to the charter of foundation of Saint Peter's Hospital at Aberdeen, between the years 1172 and 1199. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, pp. 11, 12.) William of Slanes is witness to the charter by which William Cumyn, earl of Buchan, and his wife the Countess Marjery, grant the church of Buthelny to the monks of St. Thomas of Arbroath, between the years 1211 and 1214. (Collections for a History of the Shires of Aberdeen and Banff, pp. 560, 561; Registrum Vetus de Aberbrothoc, pp. 92, 93.) He appears as witness to a charter by the same Earl William (who died in the year 1233), granting the lands of Stratheryn and Kyndrochet to Cospatric Macmadethyn. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i, pp. 14, 15.)

In the year 1261, Alexander Comyn, earl of Buchan and Justice of Scotland, gave to the Hospital which he founded for six poor men at the New Burgh in Buchan, four chalders and fourteen bolls of oat meal, to be received yearly from the rent of his mill of Furvy, by the hands of his bailie of Slanys. (Id., vol. ii, p. 276.)

In the fifteenth century Slaines, as one of the chief baronies of the Constable of Scotland, gave title to a Pursuivant-at-Arms of that great officer. The Lords Auditors of parliament were called on, in the year 1471, to judge in the case between the Countess of Erroll and 'Slaines Pursuevant:' "vlij<sup>e</sup> Mail anno [m<sup>o</sup> cccc<sup>o</sup>] lxxi<sup>e</sup> causa inter Comitissam de Erroll / et signiferum Slanis Jacobum Adamsoun et David Setone continuatur ad xxv<sup>um</sup> diem Maij cum continuacione dierum absque preiudicio partium in eadem forma sicut nunc est." Mr. Riddell has shown that, in the year 1460, the Earl of Crawford had a Pursuivant called, from the motto of the family, 'Endure:' a year or two afterwards he took the style of 'Lyndesay, Herald.' At a still earlier period, the great house of Dunbar had a Pursuivant named 'Shrewsbury,' in commemoration of the valour which the March Earl exhibited on the memorable field of Hootspur's overthrow. Sir William of Hay, lord of Erroll, and Constable of Scotland, died at Furfie on Whitsun Monday in the year 1487. (The Miscellany of the Spalding Club, vol. ii., p. 347.)

The church of Furfie was given to the King's College of Aberdeen, by King James VI., in the year 1574. (Fasti Aberdonenses, p. 129.) The patronage of the united churches of Slaines and Furfie was sold by the College in 1766 to the Earl of Erroll. In 1499, Bishop Elphinstone united the teinds of the deanery of Setone, and the lately erected new town of Old Aberdeen, with its vicarage, to his university of Aberdeen, ordaining the vicar to be a graduate or bachelor in canon law, who should constantly read in that faculty. (Fasti Aberdonenses, pp. 29, 30.) The prebend of the church of St. Mary ad nives, or the Snow Church, erected by the Bishop, was assigned, by his first foundation of the King's College, to the grammarian. (Ibid., p. 55.) But this prebend with its manse, being vacant by the death of Mr. John Lindsay, licentiate in canon law, was, on the sixteenth day of June, 1513, conferred by the Bishop on Mr. Henry Spittale, licentiate in law, who had been elected to the office of regent in the faculty of canon law by the rector, principal, and other masters of the college. (Ibid., p. 73.) The next holder of this prebend, with the office of reader in canon law, was Alexander Louson, bachelor in the decrees, who was collated to it on the twenty-second day of May, 1516. (Ibid., p. 75.) By his second foundation, Bishop Elphinstone finally assigned this prebend, with its houses and garden, to the doctor in canon law, under reservation, however, of a yearly pension of five merks out of its revenues to the grammarian. (Ibid., p. 87.) The benefice of the subchanter of the cathedral, called the rectory and vicarage of Spittale, was united to the College on the tenth day of September, 1574, by King James VI., in order to increase its revenues. For the same reason, that monarch, in 1579, granted to the College the deanery of Aberdeen and the rectory and vicarage of the parish church of St. Machar, annexed to the deanery, which had been resigned in favour of the College by Robert Maitland the last dean, with the reservation only of his liferent; and in 1583, the King united to this parish church the parsonages and vicarages of the kirks of Snaw and Spittal, giving power to the members of the College to employ the materials of the ruinous fabrics of these churches in repairing the cathedral church. (Ibid., pp. 130, 132.) An Act of Parliament, passed in 1617, provided that the principal of the College, who had previously served the cure of the church of St. Machar, should be dean of Aberdeen, and that the subprincipal should be subchanter. (Ibid., p. 140, 142.) The patronage as well of the

The Hospital of St. Peter, in later times called the Spittal, was founded by Bishop Mathew Kyninmond, who ruled the See of Aberdeen from the year 1172 to the year 1199. This Bishop conferred upon the hospital the lands of Ardschelly and Petenderlyn, Carnakerde, and Ardonachyn, and the land round the hospital, with all the teinds of his lordship of Aberdeen, except those assigned to the clergy of the cathedral. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., p. 11.) Bishop Henry Lychtoun, in the year 1427, on the allegation that the revenues of this foundation had been misapplied, diverted them to the support of his own table, and to the maintenance of two chaplains, who were to serve in St. Peter's Chapel in the cathedral; and this alteration was sanctioned by Pope Eugenius IV. in the year 1486. (Id., vol. i., pp. 226, 228.) In the year 1446, an assise fixed the marches between the hospital lands and the lands of Cotton, belonging to the bishop. (Id., vol. i., p. 244.) Two of the perpetual chaplains of the cathedral drew twenty merks from the revenues of this hospital. (Id., vol. ii., p. 67.) ]

<sup>1</sup> [Abridged from the original in the archives of the King's College and University, Aberdeen. These lands are said to have been granted to Edward, bishop of Aberdeen, by King Malcolm; but the charter is undoubtedly spurious.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., p. 4.) Under the name of Murcroft, or Murrod, they were confirmed to the See of Aberdeen, by Pope Adrian IV. in 1157.—(Id., vol. i., pp. 5, 84.) In the year 1256, these lands, with the church of the Kirkton, were assigned to the benefice of the deanery.—(Id., vol. ii., p. 39.) In the year 1446, an assise fixed the marches between these lands and the lands of Scottistoun.—(Id., vol. i., p. 245.) On the twenty-fourth day of September, 1458, Mr. Duncan Lychton, ehancellor of Aberdeen, was infeft, on a charter in his favour by Duncan Sanchar of Murcroft, in an annual rent of eight merks out of the lands of Muircroft —(Original in the charter chest at Castle Forbes.) On the twenty-third day of June, 1492, sasine of these lands, proceeding upon a precept from Chancery, was given by Thomas Sanchar, lord of Murcroft, to Alexander Symssone, son and heir of the above David Symssone.—(Original in the archives of the King's College and University, Aberdeen.)]

On the twelfth day of January, 1345, John of Boneville, knight, granted the mill of Mundurnach, with a piece of land beside it, sufficient for a house and garden, and two acres to the eastward, to his esquire Alexander Scissor, to be held for yearly payment to the church of St. Mary of Aberdeen (the cathedral) of thirteen shillings and four pence sterling. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., p. 75.) An anniversary for Alexander Scissor and his wife was afterwards founded in the cathedral of Aberdeen, for which the chaplains drew yearly thirteen shillings and fourpence from the mill, or from the town of Little Mondournay. (Id., vol. ii., p. 217.) On the second day of August, 1457, Henry Hervy, precentor of Aberdeen, granted an annual rent of thirteen shillings and fourpence, given to him by John Banerman of Alesyk, from the lands of the mill of Mondornoch, to the chaplains of the cathedral, for performance of the usual religious services for the souls of himself and his father and mother. (Id., vol. i., p. 243.) On the fourth day of April, 1468, Andrew Allanson, burges of Aberdeen, resigned this mill, which he had acquired from John Banerman of Waterton, in favour of the chaplains of the cathedral, for the foundation of an anniversary for the souls of himself, his wife, his ancestors and his posterity. (Id., vol. i., p. 299.) On the tenth day of January, 1503-4, Andrew Elphinstoun of Selmys resigned the lands of Mill of Mindurno in favour of Bishop Elphinstoun, to be bestowed by him upon his new college of St. Mary, in the university of Aberdeen, for the support of its regents and students; and the Bishop, accordingly, on the following eighteenth day of February, assigned these lands and the mill to the students in theology—a grant which was confirmed by the King on the succeeding sixteenth day of March. (Fasti Aberdonenses, pp. 46, 48, 49.) In 1536, the Abbot of Arbroath granted a nineteen years' lease of the lands of Mondornach, lying in the barony of Fiwuen, with power to construct a mill, and with "le vrak and vair" to Alexander Guthrie of Grandon and Alexander Guthrie his eldest son, for yearly payment of six pounds thirteen shillings and eight pence Scots. The lands of Slaty, in this parish, are said to have been granted to Edward, bishop of Aberdeen, by King Malcolm the Maiden. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., p. 4.) On the twenty-second day of May, 1373, Bishop Alexander of Kyninmund, in consideration of the service rendered to him and his church by Donald Banerman, physician, and Alexander, his son and heir, granted these lands, lying in the thanage of Aberdeen, to Donald, in liferent, for yearly payment of four merks sterling, and rendering three suits at the Bishop's court at Rane. (Id., vol. i., pp. 116, 117.) On the thirty-first day of July, 1382, Reginald de Chyne made fealty to Adam, bishop of Aberdeen, for the lands of Clintree, held by him of the church of Aberdeen for yearly payment of eight pence or a pound of wax. (Id., vol. i., p. 141.) In the year 1430, Henry, bishop of Aberdeen, leased the town of Bischape Clyntree (now called Bishopston) to Gilbert of Ionstoun of Ballendauch during his life, for payment of the yearly tack duty of thirteen shillings and fourpence, and rendering yearly three suits at the three head courts of the shire of Aberdeen. <sup>1</sup> [On the eighth day of March, 1560, Gilbert Mengzes resigned the lands of Bogfairlay in favour of Thomas Lindesay, burgess of Aberdeen, whose son, David Lindsay, on the twenty-first day of June, 1591, sold the lands to John Bannerman, burgess of Aberdeen, for the sum of 4250 merks Scots. In the year 1598, John Bannerman sold the lands for 5500 merks Scots to Patrick Donaldson, who, in the year 1620, sold them to James Cruickshank for 6250 merks. (Originals in the archives of the city of Aberdeen.) In 1648, James Cruickshank granted the lands to George Davidson, burgess of Aberdeen, who, in the year 1662, bequeathed them and the lands of Pettans and Westburn, in the parish of Belhelvie, for the payment of the stipend to a minister of the burgh of Aberdeen, any surplus remaining being for the benefit of the "Gulld Box" of the burgh. THE PARISH OF NIGG.<sup>1</sup>In festo Sancti Fiacrii Abbatis.<sup>2</sup>Oratio.

Misericordiam tuam Domine nobis quesumus interueniente Beato Fiacrio confessore tuo clementer impende et nobis peccatoribus ipsius propiciare suffragiis . Per Dominum .

Beatus Fiacrius heremita magnificus in Meldenensi territorio sub sanctissimi Faronis episcopi protectione insistens innumeris apud Deum vigeat virtutibus . Eo igitur tempore Beatus Fiacrius Sanctum Faronem vt eum in consociis gratia hospitalitatis reciperet expetiit .

Lectio secunda.

Cuius petitioni piissimus pater libentissime annuens quamdiu vellet secum manere concessit : quem intuens episcopus primo inquit Carissime originis patriam et tue etiam mentis effectum ac causam que tue patrie recessionis causa fuerit innotescere cupio . Et si consilium locutione vel actu prebere queo toto nisu libere tibi donabo .

Ad hec Beatus Fiacrius flexis genibus gratias agens respondit : Scocia mi pater michi meisque progenitoribus originem dedit : sed solitarie viuere cupiens patriam parentesque fugiens dereliqui : et locum heremi habitare postulo et nomine Fiacrius vocor .

Qua ex re tuam almificam paternitatem efflagito vt si in huius episcopatus partibus locellum quempiam nemorosum adesse consideras : quo sacris oracionibus insistere queam michi indulgere non deferas .

Lectio v.

Hiis auditis Beatus Faro gaudens effectus ait ad eum / habeo utique non longe hinc nemus quoddam in rure proprio et hereditario quod incole Brodilum vocant ad exercendam vitam solitariam vt credo satis ydoneum . Vade ergo et illic morare .

Lectio vi.

Cui gratias agens cum illic aliquamdiu moram fecisset videns quod amplior ei locus congrueret vt pauperes reciperet et olera herbas et cetera necessaria haberet ampliorem locum postulauit : quo sibi concesso et quantum in vno die fossato propria manu circumdare posset collato ab epyscopo gratias agens letus recessit .

Et facta oracione baculo cepit terram terere que ad tactum baculi obediens quantum tangebatur arboribus cadentibus fossato circumdabat quod videns mulier epyscopo nunciauit et ipsum incantatorem dixit : et ne amplius de ligno distrueret ex parte epyscopi prohibuit et epyscopum illuc aduenire predixit . Vir autem Dei audiens mulierem tristis cessauit qui super petram quiescens quasi mollis terra locum dedit que petra in monasterio reseruata eius contactu debiles et infirmi plures sunt sanitati restituti .

Impetrauit autem Sanctus a Domino ut si que mulier monasterij sui chorum intraret sui corporis infirmitatem incurreret quod probatum pluries extitit . Nam mulier quedam hoc probare volens ancillam suam in monasterium impulit que statim videntibus omnibus vnum oculum amisit . Ancilla vero illesa permansit . Videns autem epyscopus petram concauatam et nemus funditus subito euulsum intellexit sanctum esse virum et eum feruencius dilexit et familiarius ei adhesit . Deinde plenus Spiritu Sancto atque operibus bonis migravit ad Dominum tertio kalendis Septembris .

Aberdeen 26 October 1668.

To informe his Sacred Majestie of the great losses and sufferings the said Sir Gilbert and his familie have sustained wpon the accompt of his constant adhering to the deceased King's Majestie of ever blessed memorie and his present Majesties interests and service from the beginning of the troubles by quarterings extraordinarie leavies of horse and foot sequestrationes plunderings peyment of fynes and other extraordi-narie occasiones bot most of all by the losse of his lady and children beyd the hazard of his oune persone severall tymes both by sea and land .

First the said Sir Gilbert did engage himself in his Majesties service at the Brigge of Die in the year 1639 wnder Sir Williame Gunne generall of his Majesties forces at the tym having his eldest sone in company with him . And the enemy having prevailed that tym himselff and his sone wer forced to retein to the Highlands wher they lived for a considerable tym in exile till they wer forced to goe over seas for ther securitie and shunning the present imminent danger at that tym . Therefter having stayed abroad for a long tym the enemy having entered in possessione of his fortune being advertised heroff by his freinds forced to returne home for preventing of his totall ruine and to submitt himselff to the enemies mercie who did fyne him in fyve hundreth pundis sterling whilk he reallie payed and having stayed somewhyle in the countrey the troubles encreasing and being pressed to subscribe the Covenant he wes againe necessitat and his sone to goe over seas wher having stayed about eightein moneths he sent for his lady and children who going to France wer totallie robbed and all taken from them by the Parliament ships and carried to Ostend so that the said Sir Gilbert was forced to goe in persone and his eldest sone thither for ther releiff to his great charges and expenses and caried them to France wher having stayed for a long tym and not having wherupon to maintaine themselves he wes constrained to send his lady home for endeavoring to get some supplie furth of his oune fortune for their aliment at home and abroad . Bot his lady finding the wholl countrey in a combustion and her husband's wholl fortune exhausted by quarterings leavies maintenance loan moneys and other publict burdings above exprest shee having acquaint him therewith he and his sone wer againe forced efter four yeirs absence in France (not being supplied in the least by there oune fortune) to returne home . At which tym finding by just accompt that not only the four yeares rent during the tyme of his absence wes exhausted bot that the tennentis were super expended in the fyrst he wes forced to discharge the same to them otherwayes to turne the wholl land useless and unprofitable . Efter his returne having stayed some sex moneths the troubles encreasing daylie more and more he wes forced with his lady and his eldest sone and ane younger to returne to France . And he and his eldest sone being embarked in one veshell and his lady and the younger in another tho he and the elder by God's providence were preserved his lady and the younger perished by storme and tempest . And thereafter he and his elder sone having stayed some six moneths in France reteired to Holland wher his present Majestie being for the tym and having given his commission to the Marquis of Montrose for Scotland the said Marquis at his aryvall there did confer that honor upon the said Sir Gilbert his eldest sone as to carie his Majesties standard who wes killed under the samen in the yeir 1649 . During all which tym the said Sir Gilbert remained abroad in exile and till the year 1652 that the Usurper did make himself master of most pairt of the kingdome and having stayed some two or thrie yeares at home wes again necessitat with his familie to abandon his countrey being hardlie pressed to subscryve the Tender disclaiming the King's lafull authority and to returne againe to France efter they had been taken prisoners at Ostend for the space of sex moneths (as is notourlie known to his present Majestie) wes necessitat before his releasment to pay for his ransome and releiff the soum of three thousand gilders so that by his losses at sea his imprisonment at Ostend and his ransome for his releiff he was prejudged in above ane thousand pounds sterling before the sequestratione of his fortune during the space of two yeires in the Vsurers tym.

By all which occasiones above mentioned the said Sir Gilbert hath been prejudged in the soum of tuelff thousand pounds sterling and upwards besyd the great losse of his lady and sones and hath been forced to dispone and sell a considerable part of his fortune so that the remainder is now brocht verie low and lyk to ruine wnlesse his Sacred Majestie of his royall bountie provyd some speidie remeid therfor.

The Descent of the family of Pitfoddelles from the family of Weyme to the present time, set forth in anno 1679. <sup>1</sup>

Sir Robert Menzies of Weyme knight had two sons, the second quherof

(12.) William Menzies, his brother german, who married Beatrix Fletcher, lawfull daughter to my Lord Inuerpeffer, and on her begat

(13.) William, Charles, James, Ann, and Margaret Menzies; and married, for his second lady, Jean Semple, lawfull daughter to my Lord Semple.

The aforesaid Banison Gib had two sons, Thomas and Gilbert; and the said Gilbert married Jannet Maitland, lawfull daughter to Achmor-diw, and on her begat Thomas Menzies of Balgonie, who married Jannet Gordon, lawfull daughter to the Laird of Abergeldie.

Nota: There is ane book the title quherof is Memorialls of the Royall Brughis in Scotland, prented at Aberdeen, the year 1685, which contains ane catalogue of the Provosts of Aberdeen from the year 1310, and, in the year 1413, Gulielmus Jackson, provest, from this forth we can find no court book till Gilbert Menzeis time 1426. Whether Provost Liddell not named was befor the catalogue or omitted is uncertaine, but he is not made mention of.

The church of Dulmayok or Dalmayak, was confirmed to the See of Aberdeen, by Pope Adrian IV., in 1157. (Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 6, 85.) It was erected into a prebend of the cathedral church, in the year 1368, by Bishop Alexander of Kynninmond, the second of that name, at the instance of Master John of Pebles. (Id., vol. ii., p. 258.) In the year 1331, Alexander, bishop of Aberdeen, gave the land of Dulmaock and Petebrachere, next the forest of Drum, with the right of pasture in the common in the forest, to William of Irwyn, for yearly payment of forty six shillings and eight pence sterling. (Id., vol. i., pp. 52, 135, 142, 143.) In the year 1452, Sir Alexander of Irwyn of Drum, knight, resigned the kirk lands of Dulmayok and Petbrechar in the hands of Bishop Ingeram. (Id., vol. i., p. 271.) The marches of the lands are thus described: "In the first the Mere burne thro the Merefurde the Hirde hillok the . . . stane the Sledeyat off Ardgryne the Ball bush the Modermyre the H . . . of Petbrachare at the Forest syde" (Id., vol. i., p. 246.)

To the Kings Most Excellent Majestie

The humble Petition of Sir Alexander Irwin Laird of Drum

Sheweth

That your petitioner and his family have not onely endured the generall calamities of the late times but also have felt a storme of peculiar misery to fall heavily vpon them above many others and that meerly for their constant loyalty to your Majestie For besides the long imprisonment of his father and of himselfe and the loss of his brother in prison and the sentence of death past against himself the execution whereof was stopt by the Marquiss of Montrose who immediatly after the victory at Kilsyth procured his releasment his lands were the first of Scotland that were spoiled and wasted his father was twice fyned in foure thousand pounds sterling his house of Drum foure times garisoned and at length totally plundered his wife and children turned out of dores and the revenue of his land detained from him for the space of five yeares by one of the name of Forbes whereby your petitioners family which before was in a plentifull and prosperous condition is now become very low and in daunger of sinking.

May it therefore please your Majestie of your innate goodness and bounty to take your petitioners sufferings and losses into your princely consideration and not permit his family to perish for fidelity to your Majestie but rather gratically assigne him some reparation out of the estates of those who have received his fines and detained his rents or by any other way your Majestie in your royall wisdom shall think fitting,

And your petitioner as in duty bound shall ever pray etc.

Alexander Irwin.

Between the years 1247 and 1257, Alan Durward, justiciary of Scotland, granted to Peter, bishop of Aberdeen, an annual rent of twenty two shillings sterling from his lands of Schene, in exchange for the second tithes of Onele.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 17, 57.) By a charter dated at the Castle of Kintore, on the twelfth day of December 1539, the Earl Marischal granted to Mr. Alexander Galloway, rector of Kinkell, a croft next the church of Skene, on which to erect a manse for the vicar of the church.—(Id., vol. i., p. 416.) Two chantries were founded at the altar of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the cathedral of St. Machar at Aberdeen, by Sir Robert Keyth, out of the lands of Kyntor and Skeinen —(Id., vol. ii., p. 109.)]

On the second day of June, 1498, the same Alexander Bosuele, styled of Glasmonth, through his attorney, John Abirnethy of Kynalti, received sasine of this annuity by virtue of the preceding inquisition, and of a precept from chancery following upon it.—(Original in the archives of the King's College and University, Aberdeen.) On the twelfth day of February, 1505-6, he conveyed the annuity to William, bishop of Aberdeen, for the support of two priests, masters in arts and theology in the College of St. Mary in the University of Aberdeen, who were to be elected and instituted by the bishop and his successors. By his second foundation, the Bishop ordained these to be the fourth and fifth of the masters in theology founded by him, and to bear the title of the lands whence they draw their stipends.—(Fasti Aberdonenses, pp. 51, 58.)]

In the year 1382, the tenant of the Bishop of Aberdeen, in the barony of Murthill, was John Crab, from whom the Bishop attempted to reclaim the lands.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 143, 155.) In the year 1388, Adam, bishop of Aberdeen, leased the barony to William de Camera, burgess of Aberdeen, for his life, for the yearly rent of ten merks sterling.—(Id., vol. i., p. 183.) In the year 1402, Gilbert, bishop of Aberdeen, again leased the barony to Thomas de Camera, son of William de Camera, lord of Fyndoun, for his life, at the same yearly rent.—(Id., vol. i., p. 235.) Before the year 1427, Henry, bishop of Aberdeen, in consideration of a sum of money paid to the fabric of the cathedral by Thomas de Camera, burgess of Aberdeen, and, at the request of Alexander Stewart, Earl of Mare, and Alexander of Setowne, lord of Gordon, prolonged the lease for the lifetime of two successive heirs of Thomas de Camera.—(Id., vol. i., p. 224.) In the year 1488, Alexander Chaumer of the Qwiltis having renounced his claim to the gift of the barony, made in his favour by Bishop Thomas and his predecessors in the See of Aberdeen, obtained from William, bishop of Aberdeen, a lease for life of the barony with its fishings, at the yearly rent of twelve merks: in the event of his decease before his son Alexander Chaumer, the latter was to have a lease of the half of the barony at the rent of five pounds yearly.—(Id., vol. i., p. 819.)]

IN THE PRESBYTERY OF GARIOCH.

THE PARISH OF CHAPEL OF GARIOCH.<sup>1</sup>

Rex confirmat donationem Patricii de Ogilville militis capelle Beate Marie de Garvyach.<sup>2</sup>—(A.D. 1425.)

Jacobus Dei gracia Rex Scotorum . . . Sciatis nos . . . hac presenti

Between the years 1338 and 1344, or 1355 and 1357, the sister of King Robert I., Christian of Bruce, lady of the Garuiach, and widow of Sir Andrew of Murray, the Pantler of Scotland, founded a chantry in the chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the Garuyach, endowing the chaplain celebrating religious services there for the souls of King Robert, of the founder, and of her husband, with a toft, a croft containing an acre, in the tenement of Drumdurnach, in the lordship of the Garuyach, and with one hundred shillings sterling yearly from the lands of Meikle Warthill, in the same lordship of the Garuyach.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 66, 67.) In the year 1384, Margaret, countess of Douglas, lady of Marr and of the Garuiach, daughter of Donald, (third of that name) earl of Marr, and widow of William, earl of Douglas, granted a ten pound land from the two parts of the town of Petgovny, and from the town of Colihill, with the pertinents, excepting the Westfelde, lying in the tenement of Bourty, and the regality of the Garulach, for the endowment of a chaplain performing the usual religious services, in the chapel of the Blessed Mary of the Garuiach, for the souls of the founder, of her deceased husband, William, earl of Douglas, of Thomas, earl of Marr, her brother, and of James, earl of Douglas and lord of Liddesdale, her son.—(Id., vol. i., pp. 167-170.)

The church of Fethirneir (dedicated to St. Ninian) with the land and pertinents, is said to have been granted to Mathew, bishop of Aberdeen, by King Malcolm the Maiden.—(Id., vol. i., p. 7.) 'The township of Fethirneir, and the church with its appurtenances,' were confirmed to the See of Aberdeen, by Pope Adrian IV. in 1157.—(Id., pp. 5-7, 84-86.) In the year 1242, King Alexander II. erected the lands of Brass [Birse] and Fethyrneir into a free forest in favour of Bishop Ralph and his successors in the See of Aberdeen.—(Id., vol. i., p. 15.) On the thirteenth day of September, 1257, Pope Alexander IV. ratified the provision made by the abbot and convent of Lundoris to the vicar of the church of Dournach of a yearly stipend of twenty-one merks, the whole altarage, with an acre of land for a manse next the church, three acres of the land belonging to the chapel of Rossochetis, and a third part of a carucate of land then held by Richard the vicar.—(Id., vol. i., p. 23.) On the eleventh day of January, 1476, Alexander Vaus, official and vicar general of the diocese of Aberdeen, Thomas, bishop of Aberdeen, being abroad, granted precept of sasine in favour of William Achlek in the chaplainry of Garioch.—(Original among the Mar charters.) On the twenty-seventh day of March, 1602, Andrew Leslie was served heir of William Leslie, the son of the deceased John Leslie of Bannochie his brother, in the kirk lands of Logyduroch, with the vicarage of the parish church of Logyduroch. The 'schira' of Rane, with the church, is said to have been granted to Edward, bishop of Aberdeen, by King Malcolm the Maiden. The township and church of Rane were confirmed to the See of Aberdeen by Pope Adrian IV., in the year 1157.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis. vol. i., pp. 4, 6, 85.) Between the years 1175 and 1178, Lawrence the abbot, and the convent of Melrose, granted to Robert the son of Hugh, the son of Spileman, a half carrucate of land at Rane, lying between the church of St. Andrew of Rane, and Rothemas, which Bishop Mathew of Aberdeen had given to the house of St. Mary of Melros, to be held for yearly payment of a pound of incense.—(Id., vol. i., p. 10.) In the year 1304, Duncan, the son and heir of Helen, the daughter of the deceased Adam of Rane, sometime lord of Ledyntoscach and Rothmase in the Garulach, sold these lands to Henry of St. Michael, to be held of the Bishop of Aberdeen for the usual service.—(Id., vol. i., p. 38.) In the year 1383, Sir John Brune, knight, Master Thomas of Salcop, Sir Mathew of Marr, Henry of St. Michael, Euen of Rothenay, William of Meldrum, John of Dunfermylne, clerk, John Barkar, Gregory Bowman, William of Pilmor, John of Fyngask, William the clerk of Skene, Bartholf of Rane, Thomas of Graunt, and Gillemuvquugh, were sworn of assize upon the claim of Reginald of Rane [the son of Adam of Rane] to the lands of Ledintoscach and Rotmase. They found that, from the time beyond which memory was not, the predecessors of the said Reginald were vested and seised in the said lands making homage and suit of court by one suitor for Ledintosach, paying one mark of silver yearly for Rotmase, and rendering to the mill of Rane a thirteenth part of every kind of corn grown on either land. They said further that Reginald's predecessors had a charter of their lands which was lost in the war in the time of Sir John Comyn; but added that they had never seen the charter, nor knew more of its purport.—(Id., vol. I., pp. 53, 54.) Duncan Tendman in the year 1335, as heir to the above Reginald of Rane, his mother's brother, had sasine of a third part of these lands, which he immediately resigned in favour of Henry of St. Michael, whom the Bishop received as his man.—(Id., vol. I., p. 60.) In the same year Margaret, daughter of the above named Adam of Rane, with the consent of Duncan of Rossoth with her husband, and of Hugh of Ledyntosach her son and heir, sold the whole of her land of Ledyntosach, with the Crosflat, and Rothmase in the Garulach, to the same Henry of St. Mychael.—(Id., vol. I., p. 62.) The kirkland of Little Badochayse in the 'schyra' of Rane was granted, in the year 1376, by the dean and chapter of Aberdeen, to Adam Pynhill, the elder, burgess of Aberdeen, in exchange for the mill of Foletthrwie, with the land, multure and service of the mill, due by the inhabitants of Badychayse and Foletth-blackwater.—(Id., vol. I., p. 108.) In the year 1398, William of Tulydeff was served heir to the deceased John of Tulydeff his father, in the third part of the lands of Ledyntuche and Rothmase, in the shire of Rane, held of the church of Aberdeen for homage, service, ward and relief, suit of court, and multure.—(Id., vol. I., p. 201.) In the year 1413, in terms of the statute of a general council in favour of the heirs of those who were slain at Harlaw, Andrew of Tulidef was served heir, though still under age, to the above named William of Tulidef his father, in the same lands.—(Id., vol. I., p. 214.) In the year 1543, the Kirktoone of Rayne, with the Ailhous croft, was feued by Thomas Myrtoun, archdeacon of Aberdeen, to John Leslye and his heirs male, reserving only an acre of land next the church for a manse, as a residence for the archdeacon, to be held for yearly payment of twenty-two merks.—(Id., vol. I., p. 420.)

In the year 1544, the Bishop feued the lands of Enuirquhat and Newmore, and two parts of Rothmase, with the Derachthowis, to Mr. Walter Stewarde, for the yearly feuduty of twenty-five pounds, fifteen shillings, and sixpence.—(Id., vol. I., p. 428.)

In the year 1549, other lands of the shire of Rayne were leased in lots to several persons. (Id., vol. I., pp. 435-444.)

Between the years 1338 and 1340, or 1355 and 1357, Christian of Bruyse, lady of the Garulach, and wife of the deceased Sir Andrew of Moray Pantler of Scotland, gave to a chaplain performing religious services for the souls of the founder, of King Robert her brother, and of her husband, at the chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the Garulach, a toft in Drumdurnach, and a hundred shillings sterling yearly, from her land of Meikle Werthill in her lordship of the Garulach.—(Id., vol. I., p. 66.)

In the year 1259, an agreement was made between Richard, bishop of Aberdeen, and Thomas, abbot of Lundoris, and the convent of the same, fixing the boundaries of a land called Threp land, between the land of Bondyngton, belonging to the Bishop, and the land of Newton, belonging to the abbot and convent.—(Id., vol. I., p. 26.)

The church of Oryn, with the land and pertinents, is said to have been granted to Matthew, bishop of Aberdeen, by King Malcolm the Maiden.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., p. 7.) In the year 1256, the church of Owyn was erected into a prebend of the cathedral church of St. Machar at Aberdeen.—(Id., vol. ii., pp. 40, 252.) The superiority of the kirklands of Oven was restored to the See of Aberdeen by Isabella of Douglas, countess of Marr and lady of the Garioch, in the year 1408.—(Id., vol. i., p. 207.)]

In the year 1451, Edward Ramsay of Vesthall gave to John Malwile of Heruistone an annual rent of six merks from the half of the lands of Vesthall which he had acquired from the same John Maluil of Harviston; and the grant was confirmed by Robert, earl of Mar and the Garioch.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis vol. i., pp. 258, 259.) From Ramsay, the lands passed to Ingeram, bishop of Aberdeen in 1454.—(Id., vol. i., p. 261.) The Bishop granted them, in the same year, to a chaplain, celebrating the usual religious services for the souls of the founder, of the King (James II.) of his Queen, and of David Lindesay, second Earl of Crawford, in the cathedral church of Aberdeen.—(Id., vol. i., p. 264.) The annual rent, above mentioned, also passed, during the course of the same year, from Mailuil, through the hands of Alexander of Stradachine of Dulleuarde into the possession of the Bishop.—(Id., vol. i., pp. 265-267.) In the same year also, Margaret Malvyl resigned her third part of the lands of Vesthale in favour of Edward Ramsay.—(Id., vol. i., p. 269.) The chaplainry of Westhall was granted, in the year 1574, to the King's College of Aberdeen, and to the principal, regents, masters, and bursars by King James VI.—(Fasti Aberdonenses, p. 129.)

On the fifteenth day of July, 1895, Malcolme of Dromonde, lord of Marr and the Garioch, leased to Robert Burnard in Malingall the land of Lethyndy, as long as it should be in his hands by recognition from Paule Crab, for yearly payment of four pounds.—(Original in the charter chest of Sir John Stuart Forbes of Pitaligo and Fettercairn, baronet.) Alexander Forbes of Kynnaldy, in the year 1455, sold to John of Clat, canon of Aberdeen, an annual rent of fifty-three shillings and four pence from his lands of Lethyndy in the regality of the Garioch.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i, pp. 276, 277.) In the year 1457, John of Clat, applied these and other funds to the endowment of a chaplain performing religious services at the altar of St. Katarine in the cathedral of St. Machar for the souls of the founder, his father, his mother, of King James II., and of Alexander Stewart, earl of Mar.—(Id., vol. i, pp. 279, 280.) On the eleventh day of January, 1485, Alexander Forbes was served heir to Alexander Forbes of Kynnaldy and Petslego, knight, his grandfather, (who died in the month of March, 1477), in the lands of Lethynty, held of the King as Earl of the Garioch by service of blench farm, for rendering yearly of a pair of spurs, and valued at twenty merks, and ten pounds in time of peace. On the ninth day of November, 1496, John Forbes of Petslego was seised as heir to Alexander Forbes of Petslego his father, upon a royal precept in his favour, in the lands of Lathintie, though the donator of the ward complained against this service that the heir was only nine years of age, and that they had retoured the lands as held blench farm, and as worth only £20 yearly, while they were held by service of ward and relief, and were worth £30 yearly.—(Originals in the charter chest of Sir John Stuart Forbes of Pitaligo and Fettercairn, baronet.) ]

In the year 1511, George, bishop of the Isles, and commendator of Arbroath and Yona, leased the teind sheaves of the church of Gamery to Patrick Stewart of Kathdrum, and Yeabella Mowat his wife, for nineteen years, at the yearly rent of £43 6s. 8d. Scots.—(Registrum Recentius Abbacie de Aberbrothoc, p. 408.) In the year 1528, a lease for nineteen years, beginning in 1520, of these teinds was granted to Walter Ogyluy of Monicabok, George Ogyluy, and Alexander Ogyluy, his natural sons, and to John Ogiluy son and heir of the deceased Sir William Ogyluy of Pette, knight, for payment of the same rent.—(Id., p. 487.) In the year 1518, on the death of Mr. John Boidyenoeh, Mr. Henry Preston was presented to the church of Gamery by the Abbot of Arbroath.—(Id., p. 421.) In the year 1527, Mr. James Johnston was nominated successor to Mr. Alexander Hepburn in this church.—(Id., p. 462.) Again in May, 1528, Mr. John Cockburn, clerk, was nominated successor to Mr. Alexander Hepburn.—(Id., p. 481.) Prior to the year 1360, Andrew of Berclay, lord of Garntuly, gave to Jonet of Berclay, the widow of John of Monymous, knight, the land of Melros, with the mill and pertinents, in satisfaction of any claims she might have by right of conquest to lands acquired by John of Berclay, her father, to be held by her, and the two daughters of Sir John of Monlmona, for yearly payment of a penny at Doune.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. ii., p. 281.) On the twenty-seventh day of April, 1642, John, earl of Rothes, was served heir of John, earl of Rothes, his father, in the half of the lands and earldom of Buchan, comprehending the half of the lands, barony, and thanage of Glendowachie and other lands, lying in the sheriffdoms of Aberdeen, Banff, and Forfar, all united into the earldom of Buchane.—(Inquisitiones Speciales vicecomitatus Aberdonensis, no. 261.)

who, afterwards, granted them, with consent of William, earl of Ross and lord of Sky, his brother, to Adam Pingle, burgess of Aberdeen.—(Registrum Episcopatus Aberdonensis, vol. i., pp. 106, 107.) Adam Pyngle, on the twentieth day of August, 1376, gave these lands to the cathedral church of St. Mary of Aberdeen, for the support of a chaplain performing religious services for the souls of the founder, of his wife, and of Alexander, bishop of Aberdeen. In case of any failure in the rents of these lands, and in order to increase the salary of the chaplain, the founder, with consent of Marjory of Blackwater, his wife, exchanged his mill of Folethroule with the multure, and the adjacent land, with the water course, and also a piece of arable land in the lands of Folethblakwatre, for the lands of Little Badochayse in the shire of Rayne, previously belonging to the Bishop and Chapter. The chaplain thus endowed was to serve at the new altar to be erected by the Bishop in the south corner of the church.—(Id., vol. i., pp. 108, 109.) On the nineteenth day of February, 1508-9, Bishop Elphinstoun assigned an annuity of six merks from the lands of Petty, in the barony of Formartyne, to the students of theology in his New College of the University of Aberdeen.—(Fasti Aberdonenses, p. 46.) ]
